WHAT DECIDED IT

Sydney generated 2.92 xG to Victory's 1.88 and won the field-tilt battle 61 to 39. Victory's best spell came after the 65th minute when they pushed both full backs high; Bacus's goal at 74' came from that pressure.

PRESSING

PPDA of 9.1 shows Sydney pressed high and early. Eight high recoveries, four of which led to shots within ten seconds.

SET PIECES

Six corners for Sydney produced 0.31 xG. Victory defended zonally and conceded nothing from the first phase, but two second-phase shots came from cleared corners.

INDIVIDUAL

Teague led the line with 2 goals from 1.11 xG. Caceres had the most progressive passes on either side and set the tempo.

Bacus was Victory's most influential player between the lines.

FOR NEXT WEEK

Victory's left side was exposed in transition; Segecic found space there repeatedly. Review whether the 4-3-3 press can be sustained for a full 90 against a team that plays through the middle.
